RECOMMENDED OBJECT SIZES

The size of an object (target) on the monitor screen should have a relation to the operator task, e.g. detection, recognition or identification. If the target is a person and the CCTV system has an installed limiting resolution of better than 400 TV lines for analogue CCTV systems, the recommended minimum sizes of this target are:

- a) For detection of an intruder the target should represent not less than 10% of picture height
- b) For observation of an intruder the target should represent not less than 25% of picture height
- c) For recognition the target should represent not less than 50% of picture height.
- d) For identification the target should represent not less than 100% of screen height.

These guidelines are recognized throughout the CCTV industry.

For modern IP based systems, including Full HD and Ultra HD CCTV Videcom recommend the following minimum standards based on number of pixels in the image per meter.

- a) For detection of an intruder the target should represent not less than 40px/m
- b) For observation of an intruder the target should represent not less than 100px/m
- c) For recognition the target should represent not less than 200px/m.
- d) For identification the target should represent not less than 400px/m.
